

Alex Pleson

Director

Northwestern Ontario Prospectors Association

Alex Pleson has been involved in the mining and exploration industry since 2005. He is currently Manager and Director of Geology for Pleson Geoscience, his own applied geoscience firm with services in exploration and GIS consulting. Growing up in Geraldton, Ontario, Alex has been exposed to numerous mining and exploration activities leading to his pursuit of a career in mine exploration and development. His interests include exploring his own mining properties and spending his free time at camp with his family. Alex is in his final year of study for his HBSc in geology at Lakehead University.
