Director

Northwestern Ontario Prospectors Association

Daniel LaFontaine began his career as a member of the successful Borden Gold project and OPA 2013 Discovery of the Year. He is a young exploration geologist and a graduate of Lakehead University (HBSc – 2013; MSc – 2016). Starting with Probe Metals (previously Probe Mines) as a summer student, field mapping and core logging inspired a Masters research project on the structural and metamorphic control of the Borden gold deposit. He has since been co-managing various grassroots exploration projects in Quebec, Ontario and Nova Scotia, eager to help develop Probe's next new discovery.
