Jessica Bjorkman loves prospecting. She has worked in Mineral Exploration since 1996 staking claims, prospecting, optioning properties and geo-technical jobs. She currently works in the family business Bjorkman Prospecting. Her interests include people, rocks and wilderness, and she loves to photograph her adventures with all, especially the working characters she meets. Jessica enjoys learning about geology through short courses, field trips, and symposiums. While she has prospected in Quebec, B.C., Labrador and Norway, her favourite place to work is here at home in Northwestern Ontario. She has been a Director on the Board of the Northwestern Ontario Prospectors Association (NWOPA) since April 2012.
