

Ruth Huber

Director

Northwestern Ontario Prospectors Association

Ruth Huber is a prospector who lives in the wilderness on a small hobby farm with her family. Ruth's been in the bush since the day she could keep up to her father, prospecting and claim staking. The thrill of being outdoors, walking unvisited ground, and the possibility of finding something new has always made prospecting an adventure for her. Ruth has found multiple gold and other precious metal showings in Ontario and other provinces.
